10 SEPTEMBER 2006:

BUENOS AIRES CITY HALF MARATHON, ARGENTINA

The 18th edition of the race attracted 5000 runners, and fully half of them came from other countries, including 1500 Brazilians. Most of the rest came from Uruguay, Peru and the EU countries. Race conditions were 25°C and 60% humidity.

The value of the ChampionChip timing system was reconfirmed by the tight men's finish. The Argentinian Oscar Cortinez came across the line 0.15 seconds before the Brazilian Fabio Nascimento - a veritable photo finish, except that no photo was necessary.

A similar scenario in the women's race resulted in the Argentinian Carina Allay imposing herself to win, by a slender margin, from the Brazilian Beatriz Nascimento.

MEN:

1	Oscar CORTINEZ	ARG	1:05:57
